Pan London Education Legal Advice Service (PLELAS)

Providing free specialist legal advice to help parents help their children to get the best education

- Has your child been excluded from school?
- Are you struggling with finding a school place for your child, or do you need to appeal for a place?
- Does your child have special educational needs?
- Are you unhappy about the support your child is receiving?
- Is your child being “statemented”?
- Do you need to find a “named person” to support you?
- Do you need help with an appeal to SENDIST (Special Educational Needs and Disability Tribunal)?
- Is your child being bullied?
- Are you unhappy with how the school involves you in your child’s school life?
- Are you considering a complaint against the school / Local Education Authority?

What is the Pan London Education Legal Advice Service? And What Does It Provide?

We are a Law Centre Partnership that provides independent, confidential and free advice and support.

We provide specialist education legal advice and casework for communities across London.

If you live, study or work in one of the London boroughs and need specialist education legal advice you can contact the Pan London Legal Advice Service Team.

Contact Details are on the back of this leaflet.
